

ADVERTISING

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Dustin Ketterman – Corydon Central High School

Judge's Comments: Word searches and cartoons provide interaction and engage readers.

Division 2 Harvey Winner: Quaker Shaker Staff – Plainfield High School

Judge's Comments: Advertising that includes students provides a fun attraction to the page.

Second Place: Jon Steele – Fishers High School

Division 3 Harvey Winner: Bennett Fuson, Matt Kanitra and Beth Brookie – Carmel High School

Judge's Comments: The winning advertisement has a very appealing design.

Second Place: Rachel Spudic – Lawrence North High School

FEATURE WRITING

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Bridget Feeney – Bishop Chatard High School

Judge's Comments: The winning feature writer chose the universal theme of the importance of laughter and localized it to appeal to a variety of readers.

Second Place: Victoria Westrich – Paoli High School

Third Place: Stephanie Ware – Scottsburg High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: Emily Saucedo and Emma Grdina – Munster High School

Judge's Comments: Many people are interviewed for a Black History Month feature that courageously reports the school's diversity and the challenges that go with it.

Second Place: Sami Haddad and Victoria Ison – Bloomington High School North

Third Place: Kayla Holt – Richmond High School

Honorable Mention: Jon Ferguson – Floyd Central High School

Division 3 Harvey Winner: Rosemary Pritchett-Montavon – Lawrence North High School

Judge's Comments: The in-depth feature focuses on the story of one student who is candid about her fight with depression, but the larger message is about the prevalence of depression among all people and the ways they can find help.

Second Place: Mykel Kennedy – Lawrence Central High School

Third Place: Ellie Seta – Carmel High School

Honorable Mention: Tommy Grooms – Noblesville High School

COMMUNICATION GRAPHICS

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Brittany Engle – Scottsburg High School

Judge's Comments: Cartoon strip accompanies feature stories creatively to entertain readers and add a dimension of interest to the design.

Second Place: Dustin Ketterman – Corydon Central High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: Jordan Musall – Fishers High School

Judge's Comments: Talented artist creates cartoons that enhance editorial pages and provide visual one-two punch for the editorials.

Second Place: Sean Klaine – Richmond High School

Third Place: Savannah Hoover – Floyd Central High School

Division 3 Harvey Winner: HiLite Staff – Carmel High School

Judge's Comments: Outstanding caricatures and clever cartoons provide a variety of visuals for opinion section.

Second Place: Sam Dicken – Lawrence North High School

Third Place: Eric Rees – Lawrence Central High School

COLUMN WRITING

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Johnny Pace – Scottsburg High School

Judge's Comments: Pace's column relied on reporting, the foundation of all good journalism. His solid reporting and straightforward writing made this an eloquent tribute.

Second Place: Laken Eastridge – Paoli High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: Tyler Wildman – Plainfield High School

Judge's Comments: The best column in all three enrollment classes, this was a great idea that was well-executed. A wonderful combination of reporting and writing.

Second Place: Talia Shifron – Bloomington High School North

Third Place: Erin Parker – Richmond High School

Honorable Mention: Lindsey Keener – Greenfield Central High School

Division 3 Harvey Winner: Sean Jordan – Lawrence Central High School

Judge's Comments: Jordan's breezy, conversational style of writing disarms the reader. This is a provocative piece that goes down easy.

Second Place: Tim Chai – Carmel High School

NEWS WRITING

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Bridget Feeny – Bishop Chatard High School

Judge's Comments: The writer goes into a topic, Facebook, that no doubt almost every reader at her school would find interesting. Impressive background research is incorporated into the piece without the article reading as if it is a research paper. A variety of sources at the school are interviewed and make the story complete. While the topic, Facebook, could be covered in every high school paper in the country, this story could be published only in Bishop Chatard's publication. This is the mark of a well-researched and exceptionally written news article.

Second Place: Sami Smith – Corydon Central High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: Brett Cumings and Angel Ramey – Muncie Central High School

Judge's Comments: This amazing news story is worthy of publication in a major daily newspaper, as it is that well written and researched. The piece takes on a difficult topic and presents information in a user-friendly format that is objective, fair and balanced. It is obvious the two reporters conducted hours and hours of research to become familiar with this complicated scientific topic. They are to be commended for this outstanding journalism product. Their story provides a valuable service to every Muncie Central High School student, teacher, administrator and staff member as well as the entire community.

Second Place: Jamie Kamen – Bloomington High School North

Third Place: Deirdre Capriglione – Muster High School

Honorable Mention: Kailey Meadows and Tyler Wildman – Plainfield High School

Division 3 Harvey Winner: Addison Bradford – Lawrence North High School

Judge's Comments: The story emphasizes a local angle for a state issue that affects all students. A state official and school administrator are well used as sources.

Second Place: Ebony Ford – Ben Davis High School

Third Place: Lauren Burdick – Carmel High School

EDITORIAL WRITING

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Brook Clem – Scottsburg High School

Judge's Comments: The first place editorial in this division is most impressive because it uses research and data to support its argument, which is clearly stated in the conclusion. The writer's research includes specific background information about the issue that makes the editorial's stance all the more effective.

Second Place: Kim Tyler – Bishop Chatard High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: T. Patrick Reidy IV – Fishers High School

Judge's Comments: The winning entry in this division could serve as a model for editorial writing for every high school newspaper in Indiana. The piece takes on what might be considered a dry issue – school redistricting and attendance boundaries – and explains the topic in an effective way that relates to high school students. The writer conducted research and supports his point with facts and figures. The editorial is structured well and draws to a logical, well-stated conclusion. Administrators in this district would be well served by implementing the editorial's advice.

Second Place: Munsonian Staff – Muncie Central High School

Third Place: Gail Oesterle – Munster High School

Honorable Mention: Quaker Shaker Staff – Plainfield High School

Honorable Mention: Kelsie Spencer – Floyd Central High School

Division 3 Harvey Winner: Lauren Chapman – Ben Davis High School

Judge's Comments: The editorial suggests students be part of a change in homeroom in a persuasive way that could bring a positive change for the school.

Second Place: Kelsey Olson – Lawrence North High School

Third Place: HiLite Staff – Carmel High School

SPORTS WRITING

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Katie McCalley – Bishop Chatard High School

Judge's Comments: A combination of excellent writing and reporting gives a sports story about mental toughness first place in a competitive category.

Second Place: Cody Raymer – Paoli High School

Third Place: Sami Smith – Corydon Central High School

Honorable Mention: Johnny Pace – Scottsburg High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: David Rogers – Greenwood High School

Judge's Comments: A potential tragedy during swimming practice at the school is the catalyst for a sports story about pool safety when the unexpected happens. The specific circumstances of the story are a reminder that anything can happen to anyone, even the swim coach.

Second Place: Robby Howard – Munster High School

Third Place: Sophie Ottoni-Wilhelm – Richmond High School

Honorable Mention: Ariel Boehnlein – Bloomington High School North

Division 3 Harvey Winner: Rachel Stenger – Lawrence North High School

Judge's Comments: The winning reporter goes above and beyond the call of duty when she uses a USA Today story ranking the school's athletic conference as the second toughest high school conference in the nation as a springboard to interview many of the athletic directors in the conference. The result is a comprehensive, interesting story.

Second Place: Maggie Brandenburg – Carmel High School

Third Place: Ashley Smith – Ben Davis High School

PAGE DESIGN

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Allison Smith – Bishop Chatard High School

Judge's Comments: Clean, contemporary design helps reader navigate the age for a story that has a lot of information.

Second Place: Brittany Engle – Scottsburg High School

Third Place: Dakota Hudelson – Paoli High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: Aliya Mood – Bloomington High School North

Judge's Comments: This is a playful design that both challenges the grid for interest yet follows a grid pattern.

Second Place: Emily Kile and Kelsey Turner – Greenfield Central High School

Third Place: Kara Rebholz – Fishers High School

Honorable Mention: Taylor Eckart, Samantha Ashworth and Macey Moreland – Greenwood High School

Division 3 Harvey Winner: Tim Chai and Michelle Hu – Carmel High School

Judge's Comments: A professional readable design delivers front page information effectively.

Second Place: Hannah Parry – Lawrence North High School

Third Place: Sean Jordan, Lierin Ehmke – Lawrence Central High School

MAESTRO PACKAGE

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Booster Staff – Scottsburg High School

Judge's Comments: An in-depth feature story about siblings combines student interviews about their family dynamics with research about birth order, parenting, multiple births and relationships. The topic should relate to any high school reader.

Second Place: Trojan Tribune Staff – Bishop Chatard High School

Third Place: The Pantherette Staff – Corydon Central High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: Crier Staff – Munster High School

Judge's Comments: The Crier Staff published a special edition about a flood that affected the entire community. Excellent photos of students building a sand bag levee to protect another student's house and a visit from the governor enhance news and feature stories about the situation. A timeline chronicles the disaster, and a variety of stories provide important information.

Second Place: Fused Special Edition Staff – Bloomington High School North

Third Place: Timberlines Staff – Greenwood High School

Honorable Mention: The Rock Release Staff – Westfield High School

Division 3 Harvey Winner: North Star Staff – Lawrence North High School

Judge's Comments: The community poverty situation is the catalyst for an in-depth look that explores the escalating problem for everyone, including students at Lawrence North High School. Statistics and personal stories provide a comprehensive look at the problem.

Second Place: HiLite Staff – Carmel High School

Third Place: Cub Reporter Staff – Lawrence Central High School

Honorable Mention: Spotlight Staff – Ben Davis High School

CIVIC JOURNALISM/COMMUNITY LEADERSHIP

Harvey Winner: HiLite Staff – Carmel High School

Judge's Comments: The HiLite Staff tackles the story of the recession as it relates to the community and the school with a variety of informative articles about budget cuts and the implications of those cuts to both teachers and students.

Runner up: Cub Reporter Staff – Lawrence Central High School

YEARBOOK DIVISION

OVERALL THEME

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Kathleen Gessinger, Tyler Sanders and Kory Weldy – NorthWood High School

Judge's Comments: "Time will tell" provides the framework for NorthWood's story of 2008-09. From national to local and positive to negative events that affected students in a variety of ways, it was "time" that would see the total effect on the students who experienced this incredible year.

Second Place: Katie Trueblood and Amy Burch – Scottsburg High School

Third Place: Kassi Bowles – Paoli High School

Honorable Mention: Paw Prints Staff – LaCrosse High School

Honorable Mention: Kristen Miller and Muse Staff – Lincoln High School

Division 2 Harvey Co-Winners: Megan Hillman, Brooke Cadwallader, Cortney Travelstead – Westfield High School and Christina Avgerino – Munster High School

Judge's Comments: Outstanding photography and design combine to create dominant images from cover through divider pages to carry out the feeling for "Go Green" as the theme of the 2009 Shamrocket. Solid reporting is the outstanding trait of the Paragon as the "Power" of the narrative follows big stories that affected the entire community to traditional school events.

Second Place: Pierian Staff – Richmond High School

Third Place: Silhouettes Staff – Plainfield High School

Honorable Mention: Gothic Staff – Bloomington High School South

Division 3 Harvey Winner: Tara McElmurry and Karee Hackel – Lake Central High School

Judge's Comments: The Quiver staff emphasizes typography as a dominant design element. The ideas of "being proud, being yourself, and being LC" provide both an individual and collective focus for every Lake Central student.

Second Place: Lauren Kastner and Maggie Kim – Columbus North High School

Third Place: Jackie Willman and Kaleigh McCooy – Hamilton Southeastern High School

Honorable Mention: Pinnacle Staff – Carmel High School

ADVERTISING

Division 1 Harvey Winner: Logue Staff – NorthWood High School

Judge's Comments: The Logue staff produced professional-looking advertising and experimented beyond the traditional yearbook style of design.

Second Place: Karissa Tomlin and Muse Staff – Lincoln High School

Third Place: Sami Smith and Dustin Ketterman – Corydon Central High School

Division 2 Harvey Winner: Sarah Foist – Fishers High School
